Martin Sanders presents

WHY BIRDS? WHY NOT!

Martin is a photographer with a vast wealth of experience and knowledge, and we are fortunate that he has kindly agreed to talk to us about bird photography.

Martin will discuss the various reasons people photograph birds, for example their rarity; to study them; or to capture their beauty or behaviour.

Martin will discuss bird photography techniques, many of which also apply to other genres of photography such as sports, wildlife, children, pets and street photography.

He will also talk about equipment and camera settings, as well as share with us his own personal tips and experiences.

Martin jokingly said that during the course of the evening, he might even show us some of his photos! – His Powerpoint presentation will certainly be informative, entertaining, inspiring and packed with superb images.

Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to learn a lot from another of our highly talented members.
